Information on Actual Delivery Times

Longer delivery time on certain items

Because of the global pandemic, there was a big disruption worldwide into project and new installations planning; this resulted in abnormal level of incoming orders throughout last year. Starting from the beginning of this year, many of those projects which were put on hold came back. This means for us that an exceptionally high amount of new orders arrived in the first 5 months of this year putting a significant strain into our production planning. In addition to that, our own suppliers face similar issues, which only aggravate our own production planning challenges.

Please take in consideration our current delivery times when placing orders at MOTORTECH.

At moment we are experiencing longer than usual delivery times of up to 12 weeks for certain products such as ignition coils, spark plug leads, wiring rails and harness. Certain modules in our AIO product line are unfortunately also affected. In order to face this challenge together and avoid project delays for you and your customers, please take in consideration our current delivery times when placing orders at MOTORTECH.

We are working with our suppliers on increasing our production capacity and optimizing our resources to achieve the best possible delivery times for our distributors and customers. Our current expectation is to return to our usual delivery lead times before the end of Q3/2021.

Thank you very much for your understanding.
